GANESH JAYANTI

In Hinduism, Ganesha is revered as the god of understanding and learning. Ganesha is worshipped first in auspicious auspicious work because he brings bliss. On Shuddha Chaturthi and Bhadrapada Shuddha Chaturdashi in the month of Bhadrapada, Lord Ganesha is worshipped. in the Kalyani Charitable Trust's Sapkal Knowledge Center. From September 8 until September 2, 2019, people celebrated Ganesh Utsav with amazing devotion. Every morning, the pharmacy students of Ravindra Gambhirrao Sapkal College of Pharmacy had a Ganesh Puja, Aarti, and Prasad. Ganesh idol installation and Satyanarayan Puja were carried out in front of the College Principal Prof. Dr R. B. Saudagar. Rangoli, flower design, crafts, and various outdoor games competitions were held for the students over the course of these 10 days. The competition's winners received lovely rewards. The National Service Scheme kids effectively carried out all the duties associated with performing puja, preparing prasad, and planning competitions and activities during this time, giving their dormant abilities a chance to shine and fostering a sense of teamwork. To get practical management experience, an atmosphere of joy and excitement was spread throughout the entire city. On the day of Anant Chaturthi, the Shri Ganesha statue was properly submerged in a procession, and everyone was looking forward to the Ganeshotsav the following year. He effectively carried out his duties as treasurer and contributed significantly to the program's success.

SKH: ASTITVA - 2020

Anjaneri: The Sapkal Knowledge Hub of the Kalyani Charity Trust's 10th annual cultural festival, "SKH Astitva - 2020," came to a successful conclusion. Sagar Karande, Ankur Parde, and Snehal Shidam performed comedic skits for the audience in this vibrant programme, which was shown on the night of the 15th for the Zee TV series "Chala Hawa Yeu Dya." Heena Panchal, a dancer and performer for Cine-TV, captured the audience's hearts with her daring dance performance. Hon. Mr Hiranman Khoskar, a journalist and editor of Sakal Uttar Maharashtra, was the chief guest. Dr Ravindra Sapkal, the organization's president, Mrs. Dr Kalyani Sapkal, the vice president, and Shrimant Mane the coordinators for "Astitva - 2020." S. B. In the presence of Bagal and dignitaries, the cultural programme "Astitva - 2020" began. The yearly edition of "Astitva - 2020" on "Future Opportunities and Creativity" was released on this occasion. Twenty-one thousand rupees worth of scholarships were given to students who had chosen to specialise in the institution. The existence of all the institute's connected colleges has become the centre of attention not just in the Nashik district but throughout all of Maharashtra, and as a result, the student's artistic abilities are well-known worldwide. Through television networks, many students have taken part in this programme over the past ten years. Ganesh Vandana's dance opened the vibrant show. Following this, pupils from Orchid School presented a patriotic dance as part of a "mime act" with the theme of road safety. The dancing performance of actress Sridevi enthralled the crowd. The audience loved seeing scenes from the movie featuring Dholpathak, Garba Nritya, and Tanhaji. Dr. Ravindra Sapkal, the organization's president, said, "Let's put those old, hurtful emotions aside and get ready to take the Phoenix again." I support you in your efforts to ensure that this "Astitva" will endure for a while and send you my best wishes in this regard. In addition to wishing for the success of Sapkal Knowledge Hub, Hon. MLA Hiranman Khoskar remarked that my contribution would be to carry out significant educational work for the tribal department. There were parents, and students, Mr Shailesh Dhagay, Mr Purushottam Kadalag, Ashok Sawant, and Shashikant Jadhav present for this programme. The organization's administrative officer Dr S. S. Harak, M.B.A. Director Dr Suhas Dhande, Vice Principal of Pharmacy Prof. S. S. Gondkar, Diploma Principal Prof. Deepti Phadtare, Principal Pol of Orchid, all committee coordinators and members, etc. all put in a lot of effort to make this cultural programme a success.

MARATHI LANGUAGE PRIDE DAY

Kavivarya Kusumagraj's birthday was commemorated at Kalyani Charitable Trust's R. G. Sapkal College as Marathi Raj Bhasha Day. Prof. S. B. Gondkar made an introduction. He wished everyone a happy Marathi Day and said that it is an accomplishment that so many college students, whose first language is not Marathi, have mastered the language. In his remarks, College Principal Dr R. S. Bachchav underlined the need of knowing alternative Marathi vocabulary even though English is currently the language of knowledge. Together with promoting the Marathi language, we also seek to instil, protect, and foster a sense of pride in the Marathi culture. In her address, Anjana Bhandari expressed.
